Weather Around the World

The weather is different in many places. Some places are hot like deserts. Others are cold, like the Arctic. Some countries have four seasons: spring, summer, autumn, and winter. Winter is the coldest, and summer is the hottest. Some places get a lot of rain, while others are dry. Storms, hurricanes, and tornadoes happen in different areas. Hurricanes usually form over warm ocean water, while tornadoes often occur in flat areas like the United States. The weather can change quickly, so people watch weather reports to stay safe.
